

Oh, Money! Money!

"No." The millionaire smiled impudently. "Really, my dear Ned, I'm disappointed in you. You don't seem to realize the possibilities of this thing."

"Oh, yes, I do—perhaps better than you, old man," retorted the other with an expressive glance. "Oh, come, Ned! Listen! I've got three cousins in Hillerton. I never saw them, and they never saw me. I'm going to give them a tiny little sum of money—say, ten dollars each—the fun of watching them spend it. Any harm in that, especially as it's my one's business what I do with my money?"

"No, I suppose not, if you can carry such a wild scheme through."

"I can, I think. I'm going to be John Smith."

"Nice distinctive name!"

"I chose a colorless one on purpose. I'm going to be a colorless person, you see."

"Oh! And—er—do you think Mr. Stanley G. Fulton, multi-millionaire, with his picture in all the newspapers and magazines from the Atlantic to the Pacific, can hide that face behind a colorless John Smith?"

"Maybe not. But he can't hide it behind a nice little close-cropped beard." The millionaire stroked his smooth chin reflectively.

"Eight or ten thousand. Nice little New England town, I'm told."

"Hm—m." And your—er—business in Hillerton, that will enable you to be the observing fly on your cousin's walls?"

"Yes, I've thought that all out, too; and that's another brilliant stroke. I'm going to be a genealogist. I'm going to be at work tracing the old family—your name is Blaisdell, is it?"

"I'm writing a book which necessitates the collection of an endless amount of data. Now how about that? By the chances of observation. Eh?"

"Mighty good, if he's swatted—and that's what he'll be. New England housewives are death on flies, I understand."

"Well, I'll risk this one."

"You poor fellow!" There were exasperation and amusement in the lawyer's eyes, but he was unable to mock sympathy in his voice. "And to think I've known you all these years, and never suspected it, Fulton!"

"The man who owned that multi-million smile smiled impudently."

"Oh, yes, I know what you mean, but I'm not sure that I'm interested in genealogy, too, and I've been thinking for some time I'd go digging about the roots of my ancestral tree."

"I have dug a little, in years gone. My mother was a Blaisdell, you know."

"Her grandfather was a Blaisdell, brother to some ancestor of these Hillerton Blaisdells; and I really am interested in collecting Blaisdell data. So that's all straight. I shall be telling no fibs. And think of the opportunity it gives me! Besides, I shall try to board with one of them. I've decided that."

"Upon my word, a pretty little scheme!"

"Yes, I knew you'd appreciate it, the more you thought about it," Mr. Stanley G. Fulton's blue eyes twinkled a little.

With a disdainful gesture the lawyer brushed this aside.

"Do you mind telling me how you happened to think of it, yourself?"

"Not a bit. It was a little booklet got out by a Trust company."

"It sounds like it!"

"Oh, they didn't suggest exactly this, I'll admit; but they did suggest that, if you were fearful as to the way your heirs would handle their inheritance, you could create a trust fund for their benefit while they were living, and then watch the way the beneficiaries spent the income, as well as the way the trust fund itself was managed. In this way you could observe the effects of your gifts, and at the same time be able to change them if you didn't like results. That gave me an idea. I've just developed it. That's all. I'm going to make my cousins a little rich, and see which, if any of them, can stand being very rich."

"But the money, man! How are you going to drop a hundred thousand dollars into three men's laps, and expect to get away without investigation as to the why and wherefore of such a singular proceeding?"

"That's where your part comes in," smiled the millionaire blandly. "Besides, to be accurate, one of the laps is—er—a petticoat one."

"Oh, indeed! So much the worse, maybe. But—er—so this is where I come in, is it? Well, and suppose I refuse to come in?"

"Regrettably I shall have to employ another attorney."

"Humph! Well!"

"But you won't refuse." The blue eyes twinkled as still twinkling.

"In the first place, you're my good friend—my best friend. You wouldn't be letting me start off on a wild goose chase like this without your guiding hand at the helm to see that I didn't make a blunder."

"Are you getting your metaphors a trifle mixed?" This time the lawyer's eyes were twinkling.

"Eh? What? Well, maybe. But I reckon you get my meaning. Besides, what I want you to do is a mere routine of regular business, with you."

"It sounds like it. Routine, indeed!"

"But it is—your part. Listen. I'm off for South America, say, on an exploring tour. In your charge I leave certain papers with instructions that on the first day of the sixth month of my absence (if being unheard from), you are to open a certain envelope and read the instructions within. Simplest thing in the world, man. Now isn't it?"

"Very simple—as you put it."

"Well, meanwhile I'll start for South America—alone, of course; and so far as you're concerned, that ends it. If there's any more to it, I determine suddenly on a change of destination, that is none of your affair. If, say in a month or two, a quiet, diffident gentleman by the name of Smith arrives in Hillerton on the legitimate and perfectly respectable business of looking up a family pedigree, that also is none of your concern."

"You suddenly laugh the lawyer fell back in his chair."

"By George, Fulton, if I don't believe you'll pull this absurd thing off!"

"There's no more to it than that, a sensible man, and we can get some where. Of course I'll pull it off. Now here's the plan. You're to judge how my esteemed relatives conduct themselves under the sudden access of wealth. I must see them first without it, of course. Hence, I plan to be in Hillerton some months before the money arrives."

"I intend, indeed, to be on the friendliest terms with every Blaisdell in Hillerton before the money comes."

"But can you? Will they accept you without references or introductions?"

"Oh, I shall have the best of references and introductions. Bob Chalmers is the president of a bank here. Remember Bob? Well, I shall take John Smith in and introduce him to Bob some day. After that, Bob'll introduce me to the other Blaisdells. I need a letter as to my integrity and respectability, I reckon, so my kinsman, and I don't like noisy hotels."

"With an explosive chuckle the lawyer clapped his hands."

"Fulton, this is absolutely the richest thing I ever heard of! I'd give a farm to be a fly by your wall and see you do it. I'm blast if I don't think I'll go to Hillerton, myself—to see Bob. By George, I will go and see Bob!"

"Of course," agreed the other serenely. "Why not? Besides, it will be the most natural thing in the world—business, you know. In fact, I should think you really ought to go, in the name of the ancestor of these Hillerton Blaisdells."

"Why, to be sure." The lawyer frowned thoughtfully. "How much money do you want to see?"

"Oh, a hundred thousand apiece, I reckon."

"That ought to do—for pin money."

"Oh, well, I want them to be a real test of what they would do with wealth and it must be cash—not securities. I want them to do their own investing."

"But how are you going to fix it? What excuse are you going to give for dropping a hundred thousand into their laps like that? You can't tell your real purpose, naturally! You'd defeat your own ends."

"That part is easy to fix up in the letter of instructions. I think we can. I've got a scheme."

"I'll warrant you have! I'll believe anything of you now. But what are you going to do afterward—when you've found out what you want to know? Won't it be something of a shock, when John Smith turns into Mr. Stanley G. Fulton?"

"Have you thought of that?"

"Yes, I've thought of that, and I will confess my ideas are a little hazy, in spots. But I'm not worrying. Time enough to think of that part. Roughly, my plan is this. Now there'll be two letters of instructions: one to open in six months, the other to be opened in, say, a couple of years, or so. (I want to give myself plenty of time for my observations, you see.) The second letter will really give you final instructions as to the settling of my estate—my will. I'll have to make some sort of one, I suppose."

"That's good. Heavens, Stanley, you—you—the lawyer, came to a helpless pause. His eyes were startled."

"That's just for emergency, of course, in case anything—er—happened. What I really intend is that long before the second letter of instructions is due to be opened, Mr. Stanley G. Fulton will come back from his South American explorations. He'll then be in a position to settle his affairs to suit himself, and—er—make a new will. Understand?"

"Oh, I see. But—there's John Smith? How about Smith?"

"The millionaire smiled musingly, and stroked his chin again."

"Smith? Oh! Well, Smith will have finished collecting Blaisdell data, of course, and will be off to Paris unknown. We don't have to trouble ourselves with Smith any longer."

"Fulton, you're a wizard!" laughed the lawyer. "But now about the cousins. Who are they? You know their names, of course."

"Oh, yes. You see I've done a little digging already—some years ago"

Soothes Irritable Throat, Relieves Bronchitis Quickly

No Drugs to Take, No Medicine to Upset the Stomach. Just Breathe "Catarrozone."

Count ten—a bad cold is relieved by Catarrozone—wait one minute and you will feel its soothing influence on a sore irritated throat. No failure with "Catarrozone"—it is effective because you can breathe a healing vapor to the very spot that needs help.

The big thing to remember about Catarrozone is this, you just breathe a healing piney vapor that is full of the greatest healing agents known to science. This wonderful vapor dispels all soreness, kills all germs, gives nature a chance to completely destroy the disease. Colds and throat troubles can't last if the pure healing vapor of Catarrozone is breathed.

Catarro will disappear, bronchitis attacks will cease, coughs and winterills will become a thing of the past. Complete cures last two months at price $1.00, smaller size 50c, sample size 25c, all dealers or the Catarrozone Co., Montreal.

"Your Teeth"

By Rea Proctor McGee, M.D., D.D.S., Editor of Oral Hygiene.

GRANDPARENTS

Copyright, 1921, by Rea Proctor McGee.

To get the best out of education and health, you should begin with your grandfather and grandmother. It is always a little difficult to go back and change the habits of the old folks, but you might start with your own grandchildren's grandparents; that is one set of ancestors that you can control. Why not begin right now?

Heredity is an important factor in the development of the body—every part of the body.

The tendency is for a perfectly healthy organism to reproduce a perfectly healthy organism. If you start out right, you have a good chance to travel along without much of a struggle for health. If your race has allowed itself to go to pieces, you will reap the punishment.

It is your duty so to care for yourself that your children and grandchildren will not have constitutional weaknesses that will make them susceptible to every infection that comes along.

If you allow your teeth to decay and allow the pulps to become exposed, die, you will start a line of systemic infection that is liable to undermine your health—not only your health but the health of those who should look back to you with pride as the one who transmitted rugged health and keen vigor.

Do you wish your descendants to apologize for you as the weak link in their chain of ancestry? If you do not take care of every element of your health that is just what they will have to do.

Your mouth and your teeth are very important elements in your health. Many of the factors of health are beyond your control, but the mouth is so open to inspection and so responsive to treatment and care that at least ninety per cent. of mouth diseases are somebody's fault.

Think of the future and take care of yourself.

A man always makes allowances for his wife, but not always in the form of a weekly stipend.

The costliest watch in the world is said to be a jewelled timepiece owned by the Pope, and valued at $300,000.

But the skin-deep beauty of a lovely woman may not be sufficient to hide her ugly temper.

The Search For Oil

Imperial Oil Co. Spends Huge Sum In Drilling For Oil

According to A. M. McQueen, of the Imperial Oil Company, his company has expended to date more than two million dollars in making preparations, including the machinery and well drilling crews, and organizing gangs of drillers who are putting down holes from the international boundary north, almost to the Arctic Ocean. In addition to this, the Imperial Oil Company has erected its own machine shop in Calgary, and is doing all repair work on its drilling outfits used in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Corns Between the Toes Painlessly Removed

A real, sure, dependable remedy that has been lifting out corns for the past fifty years will surely lift yours out. Putnam's Corn Extractor is the old reliable corn remedy—it stands the test of time and never fails, 25¢ everywhere.

Many Settlers Arriving

Seventy-Five Families Take Up Land in the Lloydminster District This Season.

The flow of newcomers which the spring ushered in for the Lloydminster district is continuing unabated, and to date some seventy-five families have arrived and acquired land. Two or three times this number is expected before the end of the farming season. In addition to the marketing of five thousand head of cattle, two thousand hogs, and eight hundred sheep, more than two million bushels of grain were shipped from this district last year. An increase of fifty per cent in the wheat yield from the increased acreage is expected this year.

Cheapness of Oil.—Considering the quality of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil it is the cheapest of all preparations offered to the public. It is to be found in every drug store in Canada from coast to coast and all country merchants keep it for sale. So being easily procurable and extremely moderate in price, no one should be without a bottle of it.

Plan Your Vacation Trip

Special Summer Tourist Pares to the Pacific Coast.

Special Summer Tourist tickets to Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle and other Pacific Coast points are now on sale daily by the Canadian Pacific Railway. These tickets will bear a final return limit until October 31st, and permit stopovers en route, which gives travellers an opportunity of visiting some of the beautiful resorts in the Rockies, such as Banff, Lake Louise and Glacier, where the Company maintain splendid resort hotels. These tickets are optional via the main line or Arrow Lakes route in one or both directions without extra charge. No expensive side trips necessary.

In addition to the "Trans-Canada Limited" exclusive sleeping car train, a choice of two other day trains is offered, and as all are equipped with open top observation cars through the mountains an excellent view of the magnificent scenery may be had. Any Agent of the Canadian Pacific will be pleased to give further particulars and make the necessary arrangements for the trip.

Canned Danger

No Chances Should Be Taken With Canned Foods.

In February of this year a woman in Seattle, died from eating three small tins of canned beans. She knew that the beans showed signs of spoilage, but she "tasted them," with fatal result. Referring to this case, the United States Public Health Service says that it is dangerous to eat any canned food that shows "the slightest unnatural odor, unnatural color, smelling of the container, signs of gas or any evidence of decomposition." Such food may contain the bacilli of "botulism," which engender one of the most dangerous of known organic poisons.

Value of Canadian Fisheries. The fisheries production of Canada for the year 1920 reached a value of $49,321,217, according to a return just issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. British Columbia's fishing industry accounted for $44,300,000 of the total and Nova Scotia for $12,700,000.

Swede Prince Breaks Records.

All hitherto hunting and trapping records have been smashed by Prince William, son of the King of Sweden. Press agents credit the Prince with trapping single-handed 24 gorillas, 14 lions, and many other animals, which he is bringing back from the interior of Africa to present to the Stockholm Museum.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Radium For Toronto.

Toronto General Hospital has bought 150 milligrams of radium from the Radium Chemical Co. of Pittsburgh, the largest amount owned in Canada by any institution. It is the maximum amount required for treatment of any cases. Heretofore the hospital has not owned any of this precious substance which will now be used in treatment of cancer cases.

DO ALL MY HOUSE WORK

Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could hardly get about.

Cobourg, Ont.—"For many years I have had trouble with my nerves and have been in a general run down condition for some time. I could not do my work half of the time because of the trouble with my monthly sickness. I was told of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by friends and relatives to try it. It has done me good, and I strongly recommend it. Since I have taken it I have been able to do all my own work, and I also know friends who have found it good. You can use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. ELLEN FLATTEY, Box 761, Cobourg, Ont.

Why will women continue to suffer so much more than men can understand when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For forty years this good old fashioned root and herb remedy, which contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, has been the standard remedy for women's ailments, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as dyspepsia, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

A Negligee Of Coral Handkerchief Linen

By Marie Belmont.

Cool and inviting is this dainty negligee for summer days. It is fashioned from coral handkerchief linen, although you might develop it in any other shade you desire. If you preferred you might even use a pastel shade of satin or combine two shades of chiffon. It is cut all in one piece and an oblong piece is removed so that the negligee may be slipped over the head. This is outlined with coral embroidery. The sides are similarly adorned. They are fastened together under the embroidery to a point just beyond the waistline. About the shoulder the linen falls in pleasing lines. The satin sash and net finish add to the beauty of this model.

Where World Gets Lumber

Canadian Vessel Clears Vancouver With Over Five Million Feet of Ties and Lumber for Japan.

The biggest cargo of lumber that ever sailed from the port of Vancouver left recently on the Canadian Government steamer, Canadian Highlander. She had aboard 5,100,000 feet of ties and lumber for Kobe, Yuki Bar and Nuchwang, Japan. There have been many three and four million foot cargoes sent from Vancouver in the past few years, and the Canadian Robert Dollar Company's big steamer, Robert Dollar, sailed recently from Puget Sound with 6,000,000 feet, but only 3,200,000 of this was loaded at Vancouver. One of the Coghlan steamers, operated by that company, took 4,800,000 feet last year, and that was the record until the Canadian Highlander's cargo.

IMPORTANT FEATURES OF 1921 OVERLAND

World Happenings Briefly Told

Opening prices of California wine grapes this year have been set at $50 to $90 a ton, compared with $40 and $50 in pre-war prohibition days.

Miss Sadie Mossell, a young negro woman, received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at the University of Pennsylvania, the first negro woman in the U.S. to be so honored.

During a thunderstorm at Gibraltar recently a shower of frogs fell on the North Front. Thousands of these small hopping creatures were to be seen in the hedges and aroused much curiosity.

R. M. Maxwell, president of the G.W.V.A. has definitely announced the postponement of the annual convention of the G.W.V.A. until the fall. The convention was to have been held at Port Arthur commencing July 4.

Canada's export trade with the Argentine republic shows great expansion, according to the weekly bulletin of the Department of Trade and Commerce. Since the year 1913 it has quadrupled and now stands at approximately $8,000,000 per annum.

Quebec City has been chosen by the Catholic Hierarchy of North America for the holding of the Eucharistic congress in 1922. This announcement, which was issued by Cardinal Begin, has been communicated to all the churches of the diocese of Quebec.

An inspection of the proposed route of the St. Lawrence River Deep Waterway System from Montreal to Lake Ontario, will shortly be made by members of both the Canadian and United States Governments and by prominent manufacturers and merchants of both countries.

Internal parasites, in the shape of worms in the stomach and bowels retard children's vital and retard physical development. They keep the child in a constant state of unrest, and, if not attended to, endanger life. The child can be spared much suffering and the mother much anxiety by using a reliable worm remedy, such as Miller's Worm Powders, which are sure death to worms.

Grading of Dairy Products

The Proposed Grading Regulations Apply to Export Only.

A bill to standardize the grading of dairy products has been introduced in the House of Commons. Applying to questions, Dr. Tolmie said the proposed grading regulations would apply to export only. The Dairy Commissioner, he added, estimated that it would take a year for the campaign of education necessary before the system could go into operation.

A Friend To the Aged!

When men and women get past middle life, their energy and activity, in many instances, begin to decline, and their general vitality is on the wane.

The heart action becomes weak and uncertain and the nerves more or less uneasy.

Little sicknesses and ailments seem harder to shake off than formerly, and here and there evidences of a breakdown begin to appear.

Those who wish to maintain their health and vigor and retain their energy unimpaired should use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

They make the heart beat strong and regular, brace up and invigorate the nervous system, improve the memory, and impart a sense of buoyancy to the entire system.

Mrs. James Perry, Retlaw, Alta., writes: "Some months ago I was not feeling well, my heart bothered me quite a lot, and my whole system seemed out of order. I sent and got two boxes of your pills. I took them a few days and my whole change there was in me, and when I had taken the two boxes I felt so much better I quit them. Now I take them at intervals, and am fine although 72 years of age."

Price $5 a box at all dealers or mailed direct on order, when ordered by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Stewart Administration Promises AND Performs

VERY little serious criticism has ever been levelled at the Stewart administration. This is because, in accordance with the eternal principles of liberalism, it has dealt fairly and justly by the people. It has given uniformly good government of a constructive kind, unhampered by considerations of political expediency, and always with the view of public betterment. It has stood for the square deal for everybody in everything. It has not been without successful and with flying colors the acid test of the keenest possible public criticism.

Alberta's Upward Progress

No greater tribute to the Alberta government could be paid than that offered by Mrs. H. M. Edwards of Macleod, president of the provincial council of women, who in the preface to her first and second editions of her book on "The legal status of women in Canada," says that "the women of Alberta are more favored in regard to legal status than are those of any other province in Canada." Such a tribute might be justly applied to all classes in the province, for the legislative record of Alberta's Liberal governments has been one of consistently upward progress, many of the enactments placed on the statute books having been adopted by the progressive governments of Canada and elsewhere.

For Rural Districts

Although the needs of urban communities have been well looked after, the legislation enacted for the special benefit of the rural parts of the province is of striking importance. The appropriation this year for roads, bridges, and ferries, is over two and one-quarter million dollars, making its total appropriation for that purpose in five years six and one-quarter million dollars. The province has been covered by a network of telephone lines, so that now even the most remote districts are in almost instant touch with populated centres. What unfavorable seasons were experienced in certain portions of the province, the government did not hesitate, but paid out nearly one and one-quarter million dollars for seed grain, feed and other relief. The "Cow

Bill" has been wonderfully successful in enabling farmers in newer districts to secure cattle under government loans. Farmers are protected under another act from unscrupulous machinery and other contracts. A great deal of other and similar legislation might be mentioned. The government in all its dealings has recognized that the future development of the province rests largely with the agricultural, live stock, and dairy interests, and has endeavored to encourage them to the full extent of its power.

In Interests of Women

Alberta women are especially favored. Alberta was the first province in Canada to grant equal provincial and municipal suffrage. A mother has equal rights with the father in their children. Married women have full control of their own property. Women have special interest in the "Exemption from Seizures Ordinance," which protects the family home from seizure under execution. A widow's interest in her husband's estate, despite provisions in a will to the contrary, is also protected. Other legislation has been enacted for women. What more could the government have done for them?

Helping Rural Schools

The educational facilities in Alberta are on a high plane. In order to promote the efficiency and encourage the permanency of rural school teachers, the government pays one-third of the cost of building and furnishing the teachers' home. Consolidated schools, where they are desired, are aided by government grants. Where consolidation is impossible or is not desired, three times the usual grant is made to two-room schools, so that educational facilities may be largely increased. The educational opportunity of the child in the country is now more equal to that of the child in the town or city, by reason of special legislation providing high school education in the rural districts. The government believes in providing adequate educational facilities for even the most remote districts so that the children of settlers miles from a railroad or settlements may have a fair start in life.

CALGARY SALVATION ARMY SILVER BAND TO VISIT

The Calgary Salvation Army Silver Band, making a trip through to the Pacific Coast, visiting enroute at Okotoks, Coleman, Blairmore, Bellevue, Fernie, Cranbrook, Nelson, Kootenay Landing, Vancouver, Victoria, Kamloops, Revelstoke and Golden, will be in Blairmore, Blairmore and Coleman on Saturday and Sunday, July 6th and 7th.

The Band has long been recognized as one of the best Salvation Army bands in the Dominion. It is attached to the Calgary No. 1 Corps and has done splendid service in that city for over twenty years. Like all other Army bands, the Calgary Silver Band consists of workmen, none of whom receive any remuneration for their services, but rather contribute to the upkeep of the band.

In every case the musical performances of the Band have received high appreciation in the public press, and from many leading musicians, whilst the earnestness and sincerity characterizing the spiritual and community work of the bandmen have been no less encouraging to Salvationists and Christians generally.

The Band numbers thirty-five pieces. The music played is composed and arranged by the Salvation Army musical department, London, England. The instruments are the property of Calgary No. 1 Corps. During the past few months the Band has spent a great deal of time playing at the various hospitals in and around Calgary. The present tour is the most ambitious journey the Band has ever undertaken, although at various times the Band has visited other parts of Alberta and met with great success, both musically, and spiritually.

Further announcements will be made in this paper and the Army headquarters in Coleman also see doings and window cards.

A Colemanite, learning that a bounty was being offered by the government for the killing of grasshoppers, purchased four dollars' worth of mouse traps from The Coleman Hardware and proceeded to Lundbreck to camp out and operate for a week. The fourth and trip cost him $35, he caught four grasshoppers by the device accidentally closing in on them, and has a promise of one millionth part of a dollar from the government for his effort. All wise ones come from Coleman!

Henderson-McDonald

The marriage of Mr. Harold O. Henderson to Miss Myrtle Jewel McDonald, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. McDonald, took place at Hillcrest last evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Newman at 8 o'clock, following which the party, together with about forty invited guests, partook of a sumptuous wedding breakfast. The happy young couple joined the night train on a brief honeymoon trip, after which they will take up residence at Hillcrest.

Kerr-McDonald

The marriage of Miss Bertha M. MacDonald, daughter of Dr. D. D. MacDonald, of Alexandria, Ontario, to Charles H. Kerr (late of Calgary and Lethbridge) was solemnized on June 24th in Holy Angels Church, Buffalo, N. Y., by the Rev. Father Roche. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr spent a short honeymoon visiting the principal cities on the shores of Lake Erie and are now residing at the Greystone hotel at Buffalo.

[Mr. Kerr will be remembered by many friends in The Pass, he having for a considerable time been lieutenant O. C. at the Frank Sanatorium.]

CONSERVATIVES HOLD MEETING

A largely attended meeting of supporters of the Conservative Party of Canada was held in Blairmore on Monday evening, when the approaching election campaign was unravelled and considered. There is every probability that a candidate will be chosen to enter the battle and several names have been mentioned as likely banner bearers. Another meeting will be held in a few days, when the matter will be decided definitely. Besides local parties at the meeting on Monday night, there were Messrs. J. E. Parker, of Lee Lake, Larimer and Sharpe, of Lundbreck and Lynch-Staunton, of Pincher Creek.

EVANS-McVEY

A pretty wedding took place at the Union Church on Thursday evening last, when Gwilym, second son of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Evans, was united in matrimony to Nellie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McVey. The ceremony was witnessed by a large audience. The young couple left on the night train for a week's honeymoon trip. On their return they will take up residence on State Street.

Inspector Risk has resigned his position with the A. P. P. to enter into partnership with Fred Thael, in the gente's furnishing business.

Meighen Is Opposed To Renewal Of Present Treaty With Japan

London.—The question of the advisability of renewing the Japanese alliance resolved itself into a full-scale conference of Premiers. Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, who had circulated his case in a confidential document and who intended to speak but briefly, addressed the conference for an hour. Premiers Smuts, of South Africa; Hughes, of Australia; and Massey, of New Zealand, following with speeches of equal length.

Premier Meighen, it is understood, urged against the renewal of the treaty, either in the present form or with modifications. He pointed out the Canadian objections to it which were largely in line with his arguments already indicated in his dispatches, but rested the greater part of his case upon the claim that the old policy of alliances is out of tune with the times; that alliances as means of maintaining peace have proved futile in the past; and that the time has now come when new methods ought to be tried for the prevention of war.

Dealing with armaments, Premier Meighen drew a somber picture of the possible effects of the race in armaments between the British Empire and the United States. The great task before the nations was restoration of the world's economic stability, shattered by war; the payment of debts and the removal of the shoulders of the peoples of the present terrible burden of expenditures and taxation. To bring this about it was essential that there be limitation of armaments, something which he believed could be achieved by a comprehensive conference of the Pacific powers. It was not, he declared, a question of deserting Japan; it was merely a question of maintaining the friendship for Japan but in such a way as not to impair our good relations with other nations.

Premier Hughes, who followed Mr. Meighen, strongly supported the alliance. He supported it on the grounds that it had worked well, that it afforded the best means of protection for Australia, and that it provided a restraining hand upon Japan which was the best guarantee of peace. "Do not let us sacrifice the substance for the argument," was the burden of his argument.

Men in Montreal Becoming Desperate

Unemployed Threaten Violence If Not Given Work.

Montreal.—Over 600 men applied for work on the site of the new $9,000,000 Mount Royal Hotel. Most of them applying were literally desperate, the contractor in some instances advancing part of wages to his employees. One man went so far as to threaten bodily harm to the contractor if he did not take him on.

Byng Lands August 11.

Halifax.—Lord Byng of Vinny, the new Governor-General of Canada, will land at Quebec on August 11 from the Empress of Britain according to advice received here by the Halifax Board of Trade, who had requested through Hon. F. B. McCurdy that Canada's new Governor-General make his Canadian landing at Halifax.

Settlement Reached In British Coal Miners' Strike

Hoped That New Relations Will Now Be Inaugurated Between Capital and Labor.

London.—The prolonged stoppage in the coal industry ends by a settlement reached when the government agreed to renew its offer of a subsidy of £10,000,000 to avert the hardships of the next three months, because of necessary wage reductions, thereby conceding the one condition required by the miners in the settlement reached between the miners and the mine-owners.

By the terms of the new arrangement, a wage basis will come into effect for the next eighteen months, whereby the miners receive 20 per cent. above the pre-war scale of wages, with an additional share of profits on an agreed percentage basis which will be regulated by the creation of a national board and district boards.

The settlement is only a slight modification of the terms the miners rejected by their last ballot, and con-

General Semenov Disappears

Part of His Army Seen With Japanese Officers.

Vladivostok.—General Semenov, the anti-Bolshevik leader, who for some time has been on board the steamer, Shodo Maru, from which he was permitted to land, has disappeared from the steamer.

Prior to the disappearance of Semenov, his troops were observed in the direction of Grodovoko, about one hundred miles northwest of Vladivostok on the railway, from which place it is anticipated a separate government may be proclaimed. One regiment which was seen on the way to Grodovoko was accompanied by an automobile having in it both Russian and Japanese officers.

Semenov was, perhaps the most prominent of the anti-Bolshevik leaders in Eastern Siberia until his forces and other opponents of the Moscow Government were badly broken up in the Bolshevik sweep eastward more than a year ago, which resulted in the collapse of the White Russian movement. The government at Omsk, and was followed by the establishment of governments more or less friendly to the Moscow regime, at Chita and Vladivostok. Semenov disappeared from view for some time.

Is Earth Growing Warmer?

Director of Dominion Weather Bureau Thinks Warm Cycle Is Here.

Toronto.—Sir Frederick Swain, director of the Dominion Meteorological bureau, states that the earth is getting consistently warmer, but he simply attributes it to a seasonal or cyclical condition which has manifested itself in a more than average movement of air from equatorial parts. This has been accompanied by a natural shortage of rain which has been especially marked in Southern Alberta.

So far as last winter is concerned it has been remarkable not only for its warmth but also for its sunshine and for its comparatively small amount of rain.

How the Farmer Loses Out

Ontario Farmer Carries Stockers Over Winter on Slim Margin of Profit.

Sarnia, Ont.—The Department of Agriculture representative in Lambton County reports an incident typical of the cattle situation as it affects the farmer of this county.

One farmer in relating his experience, says that he purchased $4,000 worth of store last fall, fed them all winter on the crop that grew on 170 acres of land, and sold them about a month ago for $4,023. This shows how farmers have to take their losses.

Crushed To Death.

New Westminster.—T. C. Draper, 18, an employee of the Western Canada Cordage Company, here, was crushed to death when he was caught in a belt of the machinery at the factory of the company.

Expect Cheap Coal In England Soon

London.—The immediate consequence of the miners' new agreement will be the opening of fresh coal seams which are known to exist in many coal fields. Under the settlement, these will now be exploited for the benefit of both parties and it is confidently anticipated that whole-hearted co-operation between owners and men will result in such working economies that cheap coal will soon be available for the rehabilitation of industry generally.

Danger of Massacre In Asia Minor

Greeks Have Evacuated Ismid and Burned Town.

London.—The position on the Ismid Peninsula in Asia Minor, where the Greeks and Turkish Nationalist forces are opposed to each other, is obscure, Cecil B. Harmsworth, under secretary for foreign affairs, stated in the House of Commons. Information received, however, he added, was that the town of Ismid had been evacuated by the Greeks and was burning with the result that there was great panic in the district.

Mr. Harmsworth said there is danger of a considerable massacre and the Allied representatives were taking steps to prevent such occurrence.

Another Payment From Germany

Forty-Four Million Gold Marks Paid Reparations Commission.

Paris.—Germany has paid 44,000,000 gold marks to the reparations commission. The payment was in European currency, because the commission's recent temporary decision not to require dollar payments because of the adverse effect on exchange. This payment makes a total of about one-quarter of a billion marks Germany has turned over to the reparations commission.

Drought in Paris

Protracted Dry Spell Threatens City With Water Shortage.

Paris.—Owing to the protracted drought, Paris is threatened with shortage of water as the rivers Seine and Marne are extremely low and are just barely supplying the 400,000 cubic meters of water necessary for Paris' daily consumption.

The municipal council discussed the matter and decided to ask bids for plans to supply Paris with water from the Loire as soon as possible.

Crops Burning Up In South Dakota.

Fargo, N.D.—Weather conditions during the past few days around Buffalo, N.D., have been very bad. Dry, hot winds are drying crops fast. There are many traces of black rust, south of the town, crops are in a serious condition and several hundred acres will be plowed up.

U.F.A. Nominates Woman Candidate.

Calgary.—Mrs. Louis McKinney, former non-partisan member for Chesholm riding, was given the nomination of the U.F.A. at a convention held in the riding. She will likely be opposed by a Liberal candidate.

Turkish Nationalist Advance.

Constantinople.—The Greeks have evacuated Ismid in Asia Minor and the Turkish Nationalists, under Mustafa Kemal Pasha, now have a clear road to Constantinople. The Nationalists are not expected to respect the neutral zone prescribed by the allied commission.

Oil Prices Drop.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Crude oil prices were further reduced here when the principal purchasing agencies announced a cut of 25 cents a barrel for Pennsylvania crude, making the new price $2.25.

Agree On Peace Pact.

Mennonites May Not Move

Little Prospect of Exodus From Manitoba This Year.

Winnipeg.—A local government official declared here upon his return from the Manitoba Mennonite settlement that there is little prospect of a movement of Mennonites to Mexico or any other country from the province. He stated that less than 100,000 acres of the 1,000,000 held by Mennonites in Southeastern Manitoba is listed for sale, and up to the present time none of this has been sold nor prospective buyers secured.

Victory for Farmer Candidate

Medicine Hat Bye-Election Gives Gardiner Sweeping Majority Over Government Candidate.

Medicine Hat.—The United Farmers of Alberta forces scored a sweeping political victory in the Federal bye-election here, Robert Gardiner defeating Col. Nelson Spencer, the Government candidate, by a huge majority, which will probably reach the 8,000 mark when all the outlying polls are heard from. Spencer received only about one third of the vote of the 148.

It had been generally conceded that the farmers would poll a large vote in the country districts, but it was thought that the city of Medicine Hat would return a large majority for Spencer and that he would more than break even in the smaller towns.

Germany to Return Railway Materials

Washington.—Germany has fulfilled her obligation to replace railway material taken by her armed forces from foreign countries during the war, according to advice received here in official circles. The Inter-Allied Railway Commission demanded that Germany deliver five thousand railway cars to France and Belgium. This was a distance of between five and six hundred miles, with many a long stretch of plain and but little wood here and there. Other packet carriers met him at Carlton, and on went the great Northern Packet, only reaching some of the furthest points on last ice. The greatest care was always taken of the precious material.

My young train followed close behind his sleigh, and I noted Johnny studying my dog's gait from time to time. The dog made was a Poplar Point (an H. B. Post), and Mr. Chisholm was hospitable as usual; in fact, too much so, as it was getting dusky before we pulled out for Portage. Just as we were hitching up, Johnny, who by the way, was a little boy, told me, "B-b-b, your Herod (my forefinger) hauls too hard in front, so I will put him in the middle of my team and give you Bub-bub-Brandy-ah!" well, I was green and knew no better, so he very quickly made to do as he said, threw himself on his sled and was off like a flash. When I called, "Marche!" the dog sat down on the road and eyed me with a wicked look. I took a step towards him and shook my whip. His reply was to advance in my direction growling savagely, so I retreated. Well, I was in a quandary. Pride forbade me going in and asking for Chisholm's assistance. Suddenly I noted the fence, and taking a good-

Volcano Terrorizes People of Sicily

Messina, Italy.—The volcano Stromboli, on Stromboli Island, off the north coast of Sicily, has burst into wild activity and terror fills the island. The molten rock and sulphurous fumes pouring from the crater, it is felt, may spell impending doom to the panic-stricken inhabitants.

The people of the island, frenzied by the uncanny behavior of the volcano during the past few days, are congregating on the shores preparing for an attempt at flight, but waiting in the hope that the volcano will subside.

My First Dog Driving

By O-G-E-MASES (Little Clerk).

(Copyrighted)

I received orders in January of the year 1874 to start west with the Winter Packet of the Hudson's Bay Company and had purchased a nice team of young dogs with light carline from a clerk who came in from Swan River. The packet man was a famous traveller and known far and wide as one of the best long distance runners in the northwest. Poor Johnny Beads, like so many natives, he did not stand civilization and went to his long home a year or so ago.

I had been a year in the Fort Garry sale shop and hated the confinement, and had made application on several occasions to be sent inland (as all the area outside the Red River settlement was called in those days), but the matter dragged, and at last, on threatening to resign, I had my way.

So the long-looked-for time had come at last, and I was really off for the unknown interior next day. I slept mightily that night, having waking dreams of great prairie stretches covered with buffalo, high mountains and huge forests, with lakes as big as inland seas and above all, thousands of really wild Indians. It seemed too good to be true. The morning came at last and what with delays in the office, closing up important despatches, it was after an early lunch before we left. I paid hurried good-byes to all my friends, and received a hearty hand clasp from Chief Factor John H. McTavish. He was at that time the uncrowned king of Fort Garry and was one of the best chiefs I ever loved. His last words to me were: "If you don't like it in the north there is always a place for you here."

Johnny called "Marche!" and away we went. His dogs were a fearsome sight and very savage. They were called Brandy, Grog, Rum and Whiskey. They were all from the plains, were used to travois, and were as big as large timber wolves, with split ears, and were grey and white in color. Boy my young dogs and myself treated them with the utmost respect—at a distance—and they evidently had a contempt for us as green horns. He was loaded entirely with mail matter and, of course, dog food and provisions on top of this. His only bedding was a single heavy box which was carefully made of the thinnest and lightest of wood and he H. B. Co. white blanket. The packet was to take them to Fort Carlton on the North Branch of the Saskatchewan. This was a distance of between five and six hundred miles, with many a long stretch of plain and but little wood here and there. Other packet carriers met him at Carlton, and on went the great Northern Packet, only reaching some of the furthest points on last ice. The greatest care was always taken of the precious material.

My young train followed close behind his sleigh, and I noted Johnny studying my dog's gait from time to time. The dog made was a Poplar Point (an H. B. Post), and Mr. Chisholm was hospitable as usual; in fact, too much so, as it was getting dusky before we pulled out for Portage. Just as we were hitching up, Johnny, who by the way, was a little boy, told me, "B-b-b, your Herod (my forefinger) hauls too hard in front, so I will put him in the middle of my team and give you Bub-bub-Brandy-ah!" well, I was green and knew no better, so he very quickly made to do as he said, threw himself on his sled and was off like a flash. When I called, "Marche!" the dog sat down on the road and eyed me with a wicked look. I took a step towards him and shook my whip. His reply was to advance in my direction growling savagely, so I retreated. Well, I was in a quandary. Pride forbade me going in and asking for Chisholm's assistance. Suddenly I noted the fence, and taking a good-

It was a good thing for me the day was a short one, only some thirty miles, as I was running the whole distance. If you want to know what it was like, just watch a dog trotting beside a rig and you follow him and keep that up for thirty miles. Luckily for me the track was hard and snow-covered, so no need of. Oh, boy, but I was tired that night and my legs cramped with the unusual exertion, and it seemed that just about the time I felt asleep the call was made to get up again. This was my first introduction to an abominable habit customary with the big men of the company at that period. The guide called all hands between three and four in the morning, dogs were hitched and away we went, the bourgeois at once going to sleep in his carole, while us poor beggars trotted along. There was no sign of daylight, it was very cold, and our stomachs were fairly grinding for something to eat. In my own case I was stiff and sore from the unusual exertions of the day previous. I also had a sharp pain in one heel. Would daylight never come. Talk about an appetite, mine was like a raging wolf. Well, after a long three hours, the guide called a halt, a huge fire was made and we runners breakfasted mightily on the bannock and raw pemican, with oceans of black tea. I told Jeanne-Homme on the quiet that my heel was stinging me, and he at once pulled off my moccasins and socks. There was a crack in the hard skin of the heel over an arch long, and this would naturally open every step I took. "Oh, boy," he exclaimed, "I will soon fix that." Taking off his fur cap, in the crown of which was a square needle (really a three-cornered glove) threaded with deer sinew, and holding my foot tightly, he put in three or four stitches. He then covered it with spruce gum, placed some cotton on this, and it bothered me no more. I remembered this recipe and used it afterwards on many occasions.

Develop Frozen Fish Trade

Urges Campaign to Sell Canadian Fish in Great Britain.

Ottawa.—An obstacle to the development of the trade in Canadian frozen fish on the British market is that during the open season, for salmon in Great Britain, Canadian frozen salmon is sold as English and Scottish, but in the closed season, from September to February, the demand languishes, as salmon is supposed to be a summer fish.

This information is contained in a communication from J. Forsythe Smith, Canadian trade commissioner at Liverpool, to the weekly bulletin of the Department of Trade and Commerce. Mr. Smith advises an advertising campaign to sell Canadian frozen fish in the British Isles. He states that fish weighing from 7 to 14 pounds find the best sale.
